

Discussion Community Rules

Using SHM's Discussion Community, you agree that you have read and will follow the rules and guidelines set forth for these online discussion groups.

As with any community, there are guidelines governing behavior. Libeling others, selling, marketing, and violating anti-trust regulations are not permissible. Please take a moment to acquaint yourself with these important guidelines. If you have questions, contact SHM at information@hospitalmedicine.org or by phone at 800-843-3360.

SHM reserves the right to suspend or terminate membership on all discussion groups for members who violate these rules.

Do not challenge or attack others. Discussions are meant to stimulate conversation - not to create contention. Let others have their say, just as you would like to have yours.

Do not post commercial messages - the cyberspace term for this is spamming. Contact people directly with products and services that you believe would help them. These include career opportunities, advertisements, or any other promotional materials.

Use caution when discussing products. Discussion posted on the lists is available for all to see, and all comments are subject to libel, slander, and antitrust laws.

All defamatory, abusive, profane, threatening, offensive, or illegal materials are strictly prohibited. As a general recommendation, do not share anything in a discussion post that you would not want the world to see or that you would not want anyone to know came from you.

Please note all items listed in the disclaimer and legal rules below, particularly regarding the copyright ownership of information posted to the Discussion Community.

Remember that SHM and other participants have the right to reproduce postings to Discussion Communities.

Discussion Etiquette

Please post your messages only to the most appropriate list(s).

Include your name, and e-mail address at the end of each message. State concisely and clearly the specific topic of your message in the subject (title) line. This allows others to respond more appropriately to your posting and makes it easier to search the archives by subject.
